WE NOMINATE

Henry DeWoll Smyth, one of the truly distinguished American-born physicists and a Princetonian since the turn of the century, who for the past several decades has literally dedicated his life to "working for the peaceful uses of atomic energy and for the control of its military uses." This past week the 72-year old Smyth, formerly United States Ambassador to the International Atomic Energy, Vienna, was singled out for the Department of State's "Distinguished Honor Award" for outstanding service to "the Department of Government which is clearly above and beyond the call of duty."

Some two years ago Smyth and two colleagues (Sweden's Sigvard Eglund and Pakistan's Abdus Salam) received an honorarium of $30,000 and a gold medal. Together they had shared the Atoms for Peace Program. A year earlier Smyth was one of three Americans named by Commissioner Glenn T. Seaborg for "contributing to the public understanding of atomic energy and for 'strengthening international cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy.'" In this same period Smyth had been designated Joseph Henry Professor of Physics and first Chairman of Princeton University's 9-member University Research Board, responsible for allocations of some $27,000,000.

Smyth, a member of the Faculty from 1921 until his retirement in 1966, was first drafted for government service in 1940 — before work on the atomic bomb had started — and served as a consultant on research programs for the National Defense Research Council and the Office of Scientific Research and Development. Over the years, he contributed substantially to shaping the nuclear power policies of this country and the Western World and found himself in the "thick of things," including the current Israel-Egypt negotiations over the Suez Canal.

He was engaged in teaching and research here in Princeton when President Truman appointed him to the Atomic Energy Commission in May, 1919. At the outbreak of the Korean War he was asked to prolong his government service and in June, 1951, accepted further appointment by the President to a 5 year term. His resignation from the Commission and his return to Princeton in the fall of 1954 came approximately 18 months before the expiration of that term. In June, 1951, with characteristic candor, Smyth had been the only member of the 5-man Atomic Energy Commission in favor of restoring government clearance to the late Robert Oppenheimer.

It was in 1941 that Smyth was called upon to write his now famous report: "Atomic Energy for Military Purposes," popularly known as the "Smyth Report" and published in September, 1945, by Princeton University Press a month after it had been released as a government document. Earlier Smyth had suggested to President Roosevelt's advisers the need for such a report inasmuch as a new age in international relations would inevitably follow the first explosion of the first atomic bomb. In the preface to this compelling document, Smyth explained: "The ultimate responsibility for our nation's policy rests on its citizens and they can discharge such responsibilities only if they are informed."

For his outstanding service as "representative, interpreter and diplomat in the affairs of the Free World;" for pinpointing as early as two decades ago the urgent need for evolving international controls for the ongoing development of atomic energy; for ever emphasizing that "what we need is atoms for peace and peace for atoms;" he is our nominee as

This Is Princeton

He's a graduate student from the Soviet Union and he just happened to answer the phone and yes, he would like very much to eat Thanksgiving dinner with an American family and he had a friend... The call came from Mrs. Olaf Midtun, of the International Club at the YWCA. Mrs. Midtun has been trying to track down non-Americans in Princeton who would like to be the guests of American hospitality on Thanksgiving Day.

"We know there are lonely people from other countries — mostly students but not all — who would love to be invited, but it's hard to find them all," she says. American host families aren't hard to find, and the International Club has more than half a dozen. But the visitors are either shy, diffident about inviting themselves, or simply in ignorance of the "Y's" program.

Eldred Midtun herself will have a very special Thanksgiving feast. Ten years ago, she lived in Princeton and attended Princeton High as an American Field Service student from Norway. During the academic year 1960-61, she lived with her "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bortell and her "sister," Carol. When the year was over, she returned to Norway, completed her education and became a teacher of English in Norwegian schools. Three years ago, with her Norwegian husband, a systems analyst, she came back to Princeton and renewed her ties with the Bortell family.

On Thanksgiving Day, her guests will be Carol Bortell Hess, Eldred's "sister" from long ago, and Carol's husband, Perry. Mr. and Mrs. Bortell will be out of town, or they'd be at the table, too. "I plan to serve as traditionally American a dinner as possible," Mrs. Midtun smiles. "We'll have turkey, pumpkin pie, mince, cranberry sauce. But not sweet potato because we don't like it much, and not mince pie!"

Another guest from far away at a Princeton table will be Albert Warquier, French teacher at the high school who has come from his native Belgium to teach for a year, and who, with his wife and 12-year-old son, will be guests of a Princeton family.

Two students from India will visit a Princeton home to eat food that other kinds of Indians may once have eaten. A French "au pair" girl called the "Y" in some anxiety to make SURE there would be a place for her at an American Thanksgiving table.

The "Y's" International Club, in existence for some years, provides companionship and fun for a wide range of young people from all over the world — including the United States. The president, Mickey Korman, is an American. The idea of the club is to introduce America to the world, as well as the other way around.

Members, men and women, are between 20 and 30. Some are students, others are young specialists employed in the various firms around Princeton; many are a French, German, Latin American or Scandinavian "au pair" girls who come here on a kind of one-year indenture to work in a family.

Visitors from other countries who don't yet have a Thanksgiving Day invitation can still telephone the YWCA at 924-4845, ask for Mrs. Jan Humes, and sign up for a big slice of warm American holiday spirit.

WHAT'S YOUR PROBLEM?

Democrats. Listen. "Now that you ask me..." Princeton residents would find a dozen of them, took the Democrats up on their offer and listen last Wednesday.

at a public meeting at the Youth Center, jointly sponsored by the Princeton Democratic Association and the Princeton Community Democratic Organization, newly elected Democrats Jay Blum (Township) and Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo (Borough) heard their constituents out.

• The "Tower," now three-story buildings, still has opposition.

• Princeton's sports markets are dirty.

• If Princeton's large homes could legally have roomers, owners could more easily pay taxes and the hours our shulazze would be some what eased.

• Will phasaphates and nitrates be properly handled in the new regional sewage system?

• The Borough's proposal to move all day parking meters to outlying streets may meet opposition.

During the meeting Township Committeeman James A. Floyd observed that Princeton's problems may arise outside its borders.

"Regionalization has to extend far beyond the two Princeton," he said. "We have to know who our enemies are."

189 Constitution Drive

Apptly appointed one and one third acres, this ten-room Colonial with its terrace pool and patio is a noteworthy new listing. The room-size, slate-floored entrance foyer affords access to an aqulent step-down living room with decaurus white marble faced fireplace and French doors opening to terrace. The gracious and commodious dining room accommodates both many guests and large furniture, its French doors also open to the terrace. The casual den, which is near the front entrance has a small fireplace which emits traditional warmth and conviviality; the "Queen-Size" kitchen has abundant storage and adjoining bright breakfast area.

The upper floor is served by main and auxiliary stairs and contains five bedrooms and three baths; master bedroom suite is separate and has a fireplace. Not to be overlooked is the paneled game room, also with a fireplace; the room-size cedar closet; and the Sylvan Pool which is in the rear court. $120,000

MARKS WON'T RUN
For School Board. John H.
Marks, president of the Princeton Regional School Board, declared this week that he will not run for a second term in February's elections.
William Z. Abrams' decision not to run again was scheduled last week and was scheduled to be announced formally at this Tuesday's school board meeting.

Both Dr. Marks and Dr.
Abrams have been supporters of Superintendent Philip E.
McPherson and his administration. Mr. Marvel has in recent months been voting frequently with administration opponents on the board.

"I am neither angry nor tired, but called by other tasks," Dr. Marks said in a statement. "I have enjoyed working with Dr. McPherson who, with his colleagues, has I believe, infused new life into our schools."

Dr. Marks said that cooperation with board members on tasks that concern us all has been rewarding and, I believe, constructive for the welfare of our community.

"All effort costs something,
but the price of time and energy required over three years to understand and help direct our educational system seems negligible if we achieve,
as I believe we are doing,
educational excellence."

Dr. Marks said he would encourage all citizens to become interested in school affairs, and all interested citizens, to run for the board.

DECISION DUE SOON
In Princeton. "Cave. Saying he first had a pile of testimony to process, Judge Theodore F. Tams Jr. has promised a decision within two weeks in the case of the five persons who have been charged with trespassing on the Princeton University campus.

One of the defendants, Jose
L. Peco, 24, 12 Edgell Street, was sentenced to 10 days in Mercer Jail when, on Thursday, the last day of the trial,
he called Judge Tams and University President Robert
Green "biggs." President
Green testified at the trial
last week.

Peco and the other four defendants — Mary B. Gibson, 28, William L. Stanton, 24,
Mary Kautz, 32, and William Burlingham, 20 — are being defended by attorney Nadine Taub. All have been charged with trespassing by Borough police for allegedly refusing to leave the campus on August 14 in violation of an 8:30 University curfew. Miss Taub contends that the state trespass law applies only when persons are not permitted onto property.

The University is represented
by attorney Garrett Heber.
If convicted, the five face a maximum fine of $50.

TOPICS Of The Town

EAST END IS TARGET Of Rash of Break-ins. The east end of the Township and Borough were struck by an unprecedented rash of break-ins during the weekend. Borough police reported, eight of the Township four.

There were two other patterns, in addition to location. In virtually all, money was the only object and the burglaries appeared to be the work of amateurs.

"It must be some kid looking for money," commented Chief Peter J. McCrohan. "All he took were piggy banks and things like that."

Borough police have in custody one suspect, David Bassie, 21, no known address, whom they have charged with breaking and entering and larceny. Bassie is being held in Borough jail in $5,000 bail. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for Monday.

Chief McCrohan issued a call for co-operation from residents of the area. "If you see anyone suspicious, call us," he said. "If you don't want to get involved, we'll accept anonymous calls." He promised that every call would be investigated.

The first call to the Borough police came at 6:29 Friday night from Nancy Stokes, 5 Sergeant Street. About $59 in coins were taken by someone who broke a pane of glass on a side door to enter her second floor apartment.

Next, Joan Golstein of 9 Sergeant called to report that someone had entered her apartment through a kitchen window. Aside from some medical capsules, nothing else appeared to have been taken, police said.

On Saturday, Alfred S. Cook, 41 Princeton Avenue, reported an entry in his home between 4 and 6 p.m., while he and his family were out. Entry was through an unlocked bathroom window, police said.

Although the upstairs drawers and closets were ransacked, the only thing taken was a cardboard box containing 25 pennies from a downstairs hall table.

Resident Calls Police. At 4:15 p.m., a resident of Madison Street called police to report that someone was trying to break the front door of a house across the street. After patrol cars converged on the area, Sgt. John Bellow and Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm arrested Bassie on Moore Street near Nassau.

Police checked the house, owned by Beatrice Honore, 24 Madison, and found that the front door had been pushed in was through an unlocked kitchen window. A window pane was broken to unlock a door on the west side of the Erdman home.

In an apparent unrelated theft, police report that a trailer at the construction site of the addition to the Princeton YMCA was entered during the weekend.

Ralph Gutbrodt, foreman for the E. W. Maul Co., reported that a clock radio, pair of pliers and electric tester had been stolen. A door of the trailer had been pried open, according to the investigating officer, Ptl. Victor Fanelia.

one in the Township took place on Riverside Drive, Tee Ar Place, Prospect Avenue and Princeton Kingston Road.
Clifford L. Graf, 500 Riverside, discovered his living room had been lightly ransacked when he returned home at 9:15 Friday night. Continuing, he noticed that all four bedrooms had been ransacked as well.
Taken from a bedroom bureau were $15 in half dollars and quarters. Their rear door had been pried open, police said.

A silver dollar and about $150 in jewelry were taken from the home of William T. Applegate, 4 Tee Ar Place. Entry was gained by forcing the front door.

A screen was cut to get at the rear door of the home of the late Austin G. Scherrer, 681 Prospect.

The house was ransacked but police were unable to determine what had been taken pending a check with Mr. Scherrer's son, who lives out of town. Sgt. Jack Petrone is continuing the investigation.

Some jewelry was taken from the home of Maurice Benedetti, 508 Princeton Kingston Road. Both bedrooms were ransacked by the intruder who forced a rear door.

PEDESTRIAN IS STRUCK
At Nassau and Witherspoon, Mrs. Charlotte H. Schlesinger, 74 24 Bank Street, was struck by a car late Friday afternoon while she was crossing Witherspoon Street at Nassau.
Pvt. Thomas Michaud charged taxi driver Robert M. Hubbard, 18, of Trenton with failing to yield to a pedestrian. He told Pvt. Michaud that he was turning left onto Witherspoon when he suddenly saw the woman in front of his car.

Two women were slightly injured when their cars collided Friday afternoon at the intersection of Rollingmead and Snowden Lane.

Pvt. Mario Musso charged Mrs. Jervis Farmer, 56, 182 John Street, with failure to yield the right of way after stopping for the stop sign at the foot of Rollingmead. She received contusions of the hand and knee.

The second driver, Ruth K. Korman, 54, 371 Riverside Drive, was x-rayed at Princeton Hospital for contusions of the chest.

Thoughtful Mother Nature provided the first real cold snap of the season to make sure your turkey would stay frozen until the time came to prepare it. Tuesday morning thermometer readings were around 20 in outlying areas, lowest since last March.

A milder trend is in store, however, with Thanksgiving expected to be partially sunny and generally pleasant. Now that November has produced more than its normal quota of rain, skies may stay clear right through the weekend.

Mrs. Forsbeck was charged by Sgt. John J. Bellow with failing to give a proper signal when she tried to cut from the curb lane to the passing lane prior to making a left turn on to Avalon Place.

In the process, her car was struck on the left rear side by a car operated by Margaret Schmidt, 52, 36 Humbert Street. The impact forced her into the left rear of a car driven by Carl W. Karlberg, 37, of Trenton, who had been stopped in the curb lane because of traffic.

Mrs. Forsbeck's car was heavily damaged; the other two were able to drive away. Mrs. Schmidt was ticketed for

At Police Level, Borough and Township police and University security officers will meet at regular intervals after a meeting plan is worked out at a meeting scheduled for this Tuesday afternoon. Township Mayor John D. Wallace and Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week that both municipalities have long felt the need for regular communication among the three groups at the police level.

Tuesday's agenda listed such topics as a review of procedures (what happens, if an emergency occurs on campus?) a discussion of the whole area of drug use and matters of town-gown police concern like traffic control.

Those attending included both mayors; Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan; Township Officer-in-Charge Richard Steiner; Borough Police Commissioner Robert Hendry; Township Commissioner William L. Wilson and, for the University: Allan Kornblom, Director of Security; Neil Radenstoe, Dean of Students; Leslie C. Vivian, Director of Community and Regional Relations.

"A definite, regular schedule for such meetings is important," Mayor Wallace emphasized.

CAST CHANGE...
Far "Mame." The cast, just announced, has been changed in the P.J.&B. production of the musical, "Mame," the part of Vera Charles will be played by Joan Morton La-
gas. She replaces Georgine Hall Freedman, who has found it necessary to withdraw because of previous commit-

Intime's 'Threepenny Opera'
Is Devastating Entertainment

There are seemingly eternal, I am, too.") What does this recurrence in the aesthetic mirror by which the soul is able to see itself; ideas that become images, images that become forms, forms that become real, and speak to us, refer to "The Threepenny Opera" at Theatre Intime (repeated November 26, 27, 28, December 3, 4 and 5). This ultimately satisfying construction is a complex and intelligent re-creation, a re-minding experience, the sort of thing to which we can pay our highest compliments: interest, engagement, attention, affection.

Several genres merge here: street opera, satire, revenge, the ballet, the narrative, the theatre of the demonic, folk entertainment. The success of the merging in Brendan Burke's production is additional evidence that — while filling the witness with love, awe, and admiration — the theatre can demonstrate the horrible truths of man's survival, depraved, cruel, and low in a world which mirrors him.

This whole production is informed, through Bertolt Brecht, by a knowledge of mao's masquerade. As the late poet Frank O'Hara wrote of Mack the Knife, "His sentence / is an image of the times." Seeing this opera, one realizes, with perfect clarity (our own mask) that times rarely change, sentences rarely change, faces and souls rarely change.

What changes? Our attentions are rearranged. The names of victims change, the circumstances of their depravity change (maybe), and this changes: the hiding place of Macbeth's knife.

"The Threepenny Opera" speaks of low life, of evil that wears its innocence in view; gone, not forgotten. And this legend's opera speaks with an insight into human forms: Who is at the top? Who is at the bottom? Who is ascending? Who is declining? And feelings: What moves the human heart? Who is good in a venomous, obsessive, and warped civilization in which survival precedes morality?

I sense that man has always been comfortable with Brecht's truths about mankind ("I say: they're strangely stinking animals/And I say: no matter.

THE BOATNICK Robert Morse,
in another movie, is the Coast Guard's most misplaced lieutenant in the comedy now at the Princeton Playhouse.

News Of The Theatres
Richard B. Williams designed both set and lighting; he has made a simple stage into a deceptively complex, translucent, and flexible space, saying by mutable surfaces and shadows as much as the garish faces say. William Metzger directed the Karl Weill music, complementing both the superb voices and Ze'eva Cohen's additional chorography.

The performers are outstanding: Bernard Miller, Ernest Norris, Scott Berg, Anne Hoffman, Helene Rogers, Richard Ferrugio, Carol Lewis, Gail Simmons, and the largest company I've seen at Intimate (including an appropriate male, fleeing, exposed).
Mr. Norris (Macbeth) and Mr. Berg (Mr. Peachum) — particularly the galloping giraffe graceful Mr. Berg — are very communicative, very right, and very fine.

Carol Lewis (Lucy Brown)
sang the "Barbara Song" brilliantly and beautifully.
And Gail Simmons (Jenny Divino) made "Pirate Jenny" a song of daggers that did not miss.

The "Armed Song" transcends all the logical limitations of the opera and the Intimate stage. And Mrs. Peachum's "Ballad of Dependency" reminds us all, better than we'd like to be reminded, perhaps Anne Hoffman does that well, too well.

I too, damned by time, place and circumstance can say, at last, only this: A garish and devastating entertainment, warning for our own illusions without murey, Ennui, exciting, delightful, accurate, witty, profound.

David Carr

PLAYHOUSE
The Boatniks (now playing) is light, clean fare for the talks, served up Disney style.
Robert Morse is the bumbly Coast Guard lieutenant who meets his fate, pretty boat rental agent Stefanie Powers, under trying circumstances.
He spills paint all over her.

He gets in trouble with his boss, too, and is generally scorned. Meanwhile, comes Phil Silvers, Mickey Shaughnessy and Norman Fell turn up as jewel robbers, and set the scene for a big chase scene involving submarines, a Mexican seaplane and a picnic ba-ket.

The film is full of one-line jokes and quick comic incidents. Mickey Shaughnessy picking the lock on an ice cream machine, or Wally Cox replicating his best "The Wine Cellar, Phil Silvers, of course, is himself at full speed ahead.

GARDEN and ERIC
Lovers and Other Strangers
(now playing) is a very funny movie, spiced with outrageous dialogue, situations, characters and bright young people.

It concerns a young couple who are about to get married after living together for 18 months, and their respective families, zeroing in on various members before, during and immediately after the wedding.

Cy Howard, originator of the
"My Friend Irma" series, proves an imaginative director of comedy. The 13 principals come from all fields of entertainment, most of whom are not especially known in film audiences: Bea Arthur, Bonnie Bedelia, Michael Brandon, Boh Dishy, Cloris Leach-man and Gig Young are among the names.

PRINCE
Five Easy Pieces (now playing) stars Jack Nicholson, the personable and sensitive actor who stole "Easy Rider" from his two stars with his brilliant playing of the minor role of the alcoholic young lawyer. He sustains his characterization in this film with the same intelligently range.

He's introduced as an oil field worker, apparently adjusted to a life of manual labor, bowling, poker games and a hot romance with a waitress.
It is soon revealed that he is an outsider, a refugee from a career as a concert pianist.

The core of the film is concerned with his tentative home, where his family, all musicians, live on an island off the coast of Washington state. Nicholson's performance is fine.

Equally commendable are Karen Black as the crude and pathetic waitress sweetheart, Susan Anspach as the pianist girl friend of Nicholson's brother, Ralph Waldo as the brother, Helene Kallianotes the frantic hitch-hiker who is fleeting to Alaska to escape pollution in America. In fact, the entire cast is rich in excellent performances.

"Five Easy Pieces" was the major U.S. entry in the New York Film Festival. It was photographed in color by Lazlo Kovacs of "Easy Rider" fame. The country western score neatly contrasts with sections from Bach, Mozart and Chopin. Bob Ralston, author of the original story, directed.

IT'S NEW
To Us

ONLY FOUR MORE WEEKS
Until Christmas... The shops promise to be even more attractive this year judging from the Christmas displays we've seen. Nassau Street's Gallery 100 and the Cummins Shop are already quite resplendent.

And, around town, the Girl Scouts are turning to Christmas favors for Princeton Hospital trays; choirs are preparing their Advent chorales; and the Community Players are rehearsing a Christmas play by Thornton Penfield to be given at St. Andrew's, Trinity, Rosedale Chapel and University Chapel under the direction of Marguerite McAneny. So, with the momentum on the upswing, we have begun to browse the shops, looking in a time-saving way for what's new:

There's still plenty of time for making handcrafted gifts. At The Knitting Shop on Tilden Street we discovered new needlepoint Christmas cards... painted little patches of canvas about four inches square with marvelously colorful and imaginative designs. Send one to the friend you know who loves needlepoint, or make the squares yourself in easy half-crochet stitch. ($2.)

There's a gaucho kit at the Knitting Shop that gives you a three-way choice of suspenders, a wide, wide belt or shoulder bag, with peasant designs to be worked in bright crewel wools. ($6)

Or, in needlepoint, some enchanting ideas for coin pur-

Give a New Scene for Christmas

Buccaneer's Creek at Martinique in the Caribbean is calling you. So is Tahiti, And American Express has worked out a carefree, no-tipping, no-language problem vacation through its "Club Mediterranean" plans.

These are informal resort-villages at 48 spectacularly-located places throughout the world, where everything is included in a single, low price. It covers meals, expert sports instruction (have you tried scuba yet?), and plenty of sun and fun.

Use bead currency, wear a pareo, and enjoy excellent food... choose Acapulco, Tahiti, Martinique, Fort Royal, Aix, Ouzarza, Maracaibo, Majorca, the Turkish Aegean, Corsica, Tuscany, Sicily, or the ski villages, if you not swim suit minded). Translate a trip into a surprise certificate in someone's Christmas stocking.

ees that take almost no time at all. We noticed iris worked against a white background, an amusing apple-and-worm theme and contemporary paisley.

Christmas projects range from fireproof socks to wool paintings. Most outstanding among them are gold winged, rose-kirted angels to stitch in crewel on fine linen, and "Christmas Children," a crewel grouping of children around the world holding lighted tapers. (About 14" x 18", $9 Approx.)

Filmy mohair scarves make a treasured gift, and The Knitting Shop has patterns that call for large needles, five balls of wool and little time. Ponches, too, may be quicker to make than you realize in the heavy Icelandic or Aran wools that require big needles or crochet hooks. There are many beautiful patterns to choose from.

In Clayton's Yarn Shop, just a few doors down from the main scene on Palmer Square, we found Father Christmas in the form of a needlepoint stocking. You line it and it becomes a family heirloom. ($8) And very delightful kits for Santa Claus and snowmen, ready for you to sew, stuff and decorate. The pair, both eight inches high are $4; similar and smaller hobbyhorses and toy guardmen in sets of four suitable for tree or mantelshelf are $3.50.

Pin cushions at the Yarn Shop come in Christmassy red, or a green and yellow design on natural linen. These make satisfying, fat little objects. ($2) Also cheerful owls or butterfly types at the same price.

The keen needlewoman will enjoy the many kits the shop offers for cushions, panels, bellpulls and pictures. There are lovely Erica Wilson designs and others not so well publicized.

It's New To Us
This is a thoughtful gift for a faraway friend.

Nassau Hobby is a Mecca for handicrafters of any age. In fact, there are a number of whole family type of projects there that could add a very pleasant evening to your holiday season.

For instance, the Hobby Shop has candle making—molds, wicks, colors—and perfumes. And kits for bird houses, feeders and nesting shelters. (Age 6 to adult, prices about $3 to $5)

You could stop in at Allen's in Hopewell or Applegate Floral Shop in Princeton for your favorite flowers—and then on to the Hobby Shop for "Flowerdri," which will preserve them through the winter by a kind of sealing process. You might arrange permanent bouquets for your house or for gifts. ($3.25)

All kinds of garlands and fantasy flowers can be made with the Formafilm kits, which have lots of supplementary materials if you need them. It is based upon the simple principle of dipping wire loops into a colored liquid which hardens into a film. The effect is very pretty.

The Gift That Lasts A Year (Or More)

The Orient Shop on Witherspoon Street has a fine Japanese calendar: 12 separate sheets of woodblock prints in delicate watery colors on Mingai paper, which is thin, fibrous and translucent. Each month is given a different color effect, and you could mount them a freeze, in a group, or in an album to keep '86 '87.

For someone who likes uncompromising modern design and materials, the Wordbench on Route 206 offers two perennial calendars. They are picture-size and intended to be used as abstract decorations and somewhat abstract puzzle pieces. The date changes as small steel coils move in grooves across the moulded surface. The notations include the day of the week, Western numerals, and an ingenious set of signs for the days of the week, performed upon their original details. Color changes is black, white or yellow, and prices are $29 and $35. Or the most colorful and merry calendar: towels for hanging on a kitchen or nursery wall. Made in Switzerland; $3.50. At Clayton's, Palmer Square.

For The House...

This is the time of year when the hostess looks around her house with thoughtful eyes. And for those who treat their domicile to a gift each Christmas or who are helping a bride get started, we have found a variety of things:

There's a new group of glass and aluminum furniture at The Wordbench on Route 206 that is much less expensive than you'd expect. The shapes are clean and utterly simple. The collection starts with a small, round side table at $22. There's a cube shape that could be used in any room ($15). Two or three pieces would be a most elegant and adaptable group of occasional furniture for a wedding gift.

For the soft, dulcet chimings that never annoy, see the Howard Miller clocks at Viking Furniture, 239 Nassau. They will delight your eye, too, with their cases of clear or ambered plexiglass that add to the illusion of space. The Seth Thomas works are visible, and fascinating, and the whole offering, in various sizes and shapes, is dramatically simple.

Or, enrich your home setting with pure wool rugs in the legendary Oriental designs of yesterday. Antique shades of Persian reds, Chinese blues and golden browns in open field or all-over patterns. The sizes go from 27"x34" on up. You'll find them at Nassau Interiors, 182 Nassau Street.

Also at Nassau Interiors are amber mahogany reproductions of heirloom tables from James River plantation homes: a buffet tray coffee table about 22 inches high, with hand slots in the center of each of the four side flaps is among the assortment of coffee and end tables.

There's a hunt table with side flaps at Viking Furniture that would make a marvelous desk—if you don't need it for a buffet or bar. You could just sit there in the center slot with your papers from the Year One strewn around you in a semi-circular sea. Made in Denmark, the table has a rosewood or palisander top and chrome legs.

There's a new form of rya (which means "rug," porists tell us) at Viking that alternates deep and shallow rows of wool running the length. The colors are bright or subtle shadings, and the rya come in various sizes. ($89 up)

At Gallery 100 on Nassau, you'll find hand-crafted mirrors from Germany, with curiously attractive frames of woven wood. Some frames are pink tones blended with natural, others are multicolor and a red background. The mirrors are very sturdy, with wooden backs. ($29)

Also at the Gallery are hand some column candlesticks and curly candelabra in silvery Mexican tinware. These are very festive-looking, and so are the tall pineapples of the same workmanship. ($12)

For a classic touch of the Far East, see the Chinese-decorated porcelain lamps at Nassau Interiors, many of them reproduction of ancient designs. The lamps add an elegant touch to either traditional or contemporary rooms. The price range is $19 to $199.

You'll find snakeskin lamp shades at Nassau Interiors as well as many versions of little mahogany tables (ten or 12 inches square or diameter and about two feet high—about $60). Hitchcock tables. For alongside a chair. (Also a very interesting series of

Princeton Gourmet has a "fines mailing" service. They'll do it all for you. All natural cheeses, not the processed variety, and the choice is excellent. Nicely packaged, and you can budget your gift in the $5 to $15 range. Universe calendars at Gallery 100 have themes ranging from stained glass to ships to Picasso to picturesque coastlines, and more. All very beautiful and in different ways. Enamel-on-copper jewelry from The Artisan, 318 Witherspoon Street, in Princeton, has a bright copper background. Earrings and brooches that are reasonably priced around $3.

Going over to the Orient Shop on Witherspoon Street. There's a good hunting ground here. You have a choice of 12 colors; the price is $99. In fact, the upholstered furniture in Nassau Interiors' sales room is being offered at 20 percent off the regular price.

And for a really handsome ice bucket, see the Danske version in rosewood at Princeton Gourmet, Nassau and Harrison Street. It practically ranks as an art object. The bucket is a rectangular block, with slightly scooped sides, and the lid has a recessed knob. But it is the color and markings of the wood, and its symmetrical use, that are outstandingly lovely. ($64.95) A smaller, matching box that is equally handsome leaves its purpose up to you. ($35).

From The Galleries
Have you heard of the "people pots" with clay feet just like the rest of us? Potter David L. Davis has been making them for more than a year and they keep becoming more human and, naturally, more complex. You'll find them at The Artisan, 300 Witherspoon Street, in brown clay with a blue glaze therein. Amusing and provocative. A beaker is $6.

Anyone who feels shy of art galleries should perhaps start at The Artisan, a delightful, informal place owned by Mrs. Shirley Clamann. Most of the wall space is now occupied by young artists. Around and in between the show, you'll find jewelry, pottery, jewelry, macramé and beadwork belts.

There are a number of prints of elegance, wit and good execution among the collection at the rear of the gallery. Also some charming pencil drawings which fuse oriental abstraction with close botanical observation. Many of these are in the $10 to $20 range.

A perfect long distance gift for a friend who shares your tastes may well be found among the group of small, mounted batiks at The Artisan. The colors are glowing reds and oranges, with touches of purple; the figure subjects are delicately suggested. ($5 up)

Easy to Mail
Princeton Gourmet has a "fines mailing" service. They'll do it all for you. All natural cheeses, not the processed variety, and the choice is excellent. Nicely packaged, and you can budget your gift in the $5 to $15 range. Universe calendars at Gallery 100 have themes ranging from stained glass to ships to Picasso to picturesque coastlines, and more. All very beautiful and in different ways. Enamel-on-copper jewelry from The Artisan, 318 Witherspoon Street, in Princeton, has a bright copper background. Earrings and brooches that are reasonably priced around $3.

Handcrafted jewelry at The Artisan is intriguing. There are textured modern pieces by Anthony Kim, some set with uncut stones, others are engagement-wedding rings ingeniously interlocking. All are solid treasures, and costly.

From Stephanie von Stackelberg, silver necklaces and earrings in delicate, faintly geometric designs. These are modestly priced for their quality. There's a delightful necklace mounted on a broad black velvet ribbon, with an uncut amethyst in the center. ($18) Her work is marvelously young, understated and charming.

In oxidized sterling, some rather formal abstract pieces in geometrical designs by the Nagys for the chic, immaculate, formal lady. And also in sterling, vestigial animal subjects of seemingly Eskimo inspiration. These are by Tuttle of California, and are quite appealing.

Gallery 100 has a really good international for their Christmas ideas, with Mrs. Fleurette Faus and Hal Burnett (and the scouts) shopping in person during travels of the past year.

You'll see here a most inventive collection of jewelry by William Zorn. Bold designs of loops and curves of silver, hammered brass in necklaces and hair ornaments. ($5-$15) Also Gregory Sant'Angelo's fine silver mesh in a delicate y-made scarf necklace ($10) and matching evening bag ($20).

The Gallery is mounting a Christmas print show to open December 5. Contemporary Russian lithographs and English cartoons. Scenic subjects from Leningrad, done in a primitive style, will add a new note to someone's art collection. The English cartoons, culled by Mrs. Faus in London, date to the beginning years of the Victorian era. The tone, of course, is pure British whimsy.

Most of the handcrafts there are silvery in tone, such as the delicate and intriguing toys for playful adults: boats, or kites, of silvery wire springing from transparent cube bases. They sway with the slightest movement.

Also the fine, silvered metal of concentric rings, $5, $9, depending on size; and the rather grand Christmas tree decorations that bring other cras to mind — large, silvered glass balls and bells with brass tops. ($5 and $7). Objects to be treasured.

The Eye for Art on Spring Street is big on mineral specimens as gifts — and they have some beauties. In fact, they are so infinitely more beautiful than most human artifacts. One of the best is a piece of lapis lazuli in the raw form of a gold and blue intricately mixed together. ($30) square feet of open space will be more firmly rooted by a pair of resolutions to be presented next Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Regional Planning Board.

The Board will hold an extra meeting next Wednesday, December 2, to listen again to the case of the former "Tower."
Both meetings will be held in Borough Hall at 8 p.m.
The first "open space" resolution, will put the old Quarry land off Spruce Street, on the official Borough map as park land. The second resolution will make sure that Marquand Park remains Marquand Park, without development or a bisecting road.

SHE'S A "FIRST"
In Housing Authority, Mrs. Alice Satterfield, 53 Clay Street, has become the first Princeton resident of a public housing project to be appointed a Commissioner of the Princeton Borough Housing Authority.

Mrs. Satterfield is also one of the few public housing residents throughout the United States to be named to an authority, according to Mrs. Karen Slaby, executive director of Princeton's Authority.

"Such an appointment is a development that's long overdue," Mrs. Slaby commented.

The new Commissioner has been appointed by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley to fill the unexpired term of Sherman Bates. Her term expires August, 1972.

Born and raised in Princeton, Mrs. Satterfield attended Princeton High School and has been employed there for the past 15 years. She has been operator of the Princeton Regional Schools' master switchboard, located in the high school's main office, for the past three years.

NEW HOUSING COMMISSIONER: Mrs. Alice Satterfield, right, is the first Princeton public housing resident to be named a Commissioner on the Housing Authority. With her is Mrs. Karen Slaby, executive director of the Authority.

"I moved into Clay Street when the apartments were first opened, in 1953," she recalls, "and I've lived here ever since." Mrs. Satterfield is a member of Bryan V. Moore, Princeton lawyer who is a member of the Princeton Regional Planning Board and served for many years on the old Borough Board of Education.

The six Commissioners of the Housing Authority meet once a month to consider management problems and general matters of policy. At present, the Authority is waiting for word on an application for 100 public housing units which would be built in conjunction with the middle-income apartments planned for the Township by Princeton Community Housing, Inc.

Joseph Redding is chairman of the Authority. Other members are Mrs. Esther C. Dilworth, Kenneth M. Randall Jr., Mrs. Catherine Wood, Kenneth A. Wells.

BIRTHS

Twenty-eight born. Sixteen girls and 12 boys were born last week in Princeton Hospital.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Noel, 129 Mechanic Street, Hightstown, November 15; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Santo, 47 Lake Drive, Roosevelt, November 16; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mittraill, 4 Glenview Drive, November 17.

YMCA To Use Hondas In Youth Program

A Committee representing citizens and police from West Windsor, Princeton and Montgomery Township has been formed at the YMCA to develop a program using Honda Mini-Trail Bikes as a tool to interest hard to reach youth.

The Y here has been designated as a pilot program with 29 other YMCA's throughout the country to receive 12 Honda Mini-Trail Bikes and initiate a program for boys 13 to 15 years.

If the pilot programs are successful the American Honda Company, Inc. will make available 10,000 units to be distributed to YMCA programs around the country. Honda's contribution is based on an interest in seeking ways of working with youth who are not easily reached through traditional types of community programs.

The pilot projects will be developed locally but must also incorporate five basic requirements which are:

- To teach safety education and provide instructions on the use of motorized vehicles, involving local police officers.
- To teach riding skills.

mechanical operation and maintenance knowledge and skills which can lead to career jobs.

• To provide adequate insurance, supervision and to guarantee that proper helmets and shoes are worn by every youth when operating the mini-trails.

• That staff or responsible persons must receive adequate orientation and training on the safe use of mini-trails, its maintenance and program models.

• To avoid any commercialization.

The Tri-Community Committee is chaired by William R. Haldane, 456 Ewing Street of the YMCA Youth Committee and includes police officers and citizens for each community. Present organizational plans include the development of units of boys and men in each community, with an adult taking charge of one bike and two boys.

Volunteer men are now being sought to work with the boys. Four bikes, four men and eight to 12 boys will make up the nucleus of each community unit. Some boys and their dads who own their own Trail bikes will be added to each unit, but units will be limited for the pilot period.

The Mini-Trail Bike's provided are Honda 50's, designed for trail areas. They reach a top speed of approximately 25 miles per hour and are not vehicles that can be driven on public roads.

Participants at the organizational committee meeting included, Sherman Cooper, Trenton; Paul R. Oliver, 223 Terhune Road; Tony Nini, 377 Walnut Lane; Tony Pinnelli, Township Police Department; Joseph G. Oliver, Sr., Burnt Hill Road, Skillman; Francis J. Maguire, West Windsor Township Police Department; Mr. Haldane, and Walter W. Sorg of Peter Addicott of the YMCA staff.

Occasionally you may need a little help

Help in the form of a loan. For a lot of reasons, money can be very helpful. And the reasons don't have to be as dramatic as serpents in a pit. It could just be that your old car is a serpent of a kind... the kind that eats dollars in the form of repair bills. Perhaps your dragon is a college tuition bill for junior. Or a washing machine that spits out dirty clothes. At First National we have all types of dragon-slayer loans. And just plain loan-loans too. That's for nice problems like vacations. Stop in at any of our four offices.

Start the Christmas Rush with a Good Book

Before you start buying Christmas books, read one or two yourself, just for testing. These are the current best-sellers in Princeton's book outlets:

FICTION

"Love Story," Erich Segal. This one's about ready to celebrate its Golden Anniversary. (Princeton Book Mart)
"Baby, It's Cold Inside," S. J. Perlman. What other humorist is a National Historical Monument? (University Store)
"The Secret Woman," Virginia Holt. Good Gothic novel-writing. (Male's Book Shop)
"Wheel of Love," Joyce Carol Oates. Short-story collection from a gifted young stylist. (Public Library)

NON-FICTION

"Civilisation," Kenneth Clark. Read the book then watch the TV show. (Princeton Book Mart)
"The Greening of America," Charles Reich. Are you Consciousness 1, II or III? (University Store)
"Inside the Third Reich," Albert Speer. He was. (Male's Book Shop)
"Don't Fall Off the Mountain," Shirley MacLaine. Autobiography. (Public Library)

RECOMMENDED

"The Constant Reader," Dorothy Parker. Anthology of her writings from The New Yorker. (Princeton Book Mart)
"The Aleph and other Stories," Jorge Luis Borges. A collection of writings by the Nobel prize-winner. (University Store)
"God Is an Englishman," Ronald Delderfield. Like a good novel? (Male's Book Shop)
"Future Shock," Alvin Toffler. His comments on the education establishment are especially good. (Public Library)

STUART INVITES YOU
To Christmas Bazaar. Christmas gift ideas, holiday foods, handicrafts, art, entertainment and an auction are all featured at the Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, December 5, at St. Country Day School of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. Albert Cooper and Mrs. Stuart Crothers are co-chairmen of the parents' committee. Mrs. James A. Waldron and Mrs. Bernard Cooke are in charge of the auction, and the luncheon committee is led by Mrs. Kenneth Fishbeck and Mrs. Edward M. Crane Jr.

The week-long book sale which opens next week will include daily teas introducing Princeton area writers Keith Robertson, Ann Williams and others. The book sale committee includes Mrs. David Blair, Mr. A. Perry Morgan, Mrs. Charles D. Liberti, Mrs. George Gallup and Mrs. Slaysman Pell.

There will be entertainment for children, and baby-sitting while mothers browse the wares. Offerings at the bazaar will include knitting, faculty handwork, dried flowers, Christmas cards, candy, Christmas trim, a teen boutique, Ukrainian art, and French specialties, ready to take home for dinner or the holidays.

SIX HOUSES ON TOUR

For NNPI Benefit. Six homes, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan II, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Cosby, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Hillier, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Case and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Steele, will be open for inspection as part of the Christmas in Princeton Tour of Houses, sponsored by the Association of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute from 10 to 4 Tuesday, December 5.

"Peep O'Day" is a historic 19th century house owned by the Steeles. The central portion of the house was built in 1832 by Job Olden. Peep O'Day refers to the sunrise and is marked by an interesting bronze sunburst affixed to the front door. The name was given to the house by a previous owner at the turn of the century. It has been cited in local architectural books for its elaborate woodwork which starts at the front portico and continues throughout the house.

The headquarters and Christmas Shops will be located at the Y. Gingerbread and coffee will be served. Tickets at $7.50 may be purchased by sending a check made payable to the Association of the NNPI to Mrs. R. J. Woodrow, Rosedale Road, Princeton.

Dinner for Chief Campbell

A dinner dance will be held December 17 at the Princeton Country Club, Route 1, to honor Chief James B. Campbell Jr., who is retiring at the end of the year from the Township police department after 34 years of service. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 7:30; dinner will be served at 8, with dancing from 9 until 12. Tickets for the affair are $8 per person. Those wishing to attend should call the detective bureau at Township police headquarters. All reservations must be made by December 7.

CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON SET
By Hospital Aid Committee. The Princeton Hospital Aid Committee will hold its Christmas Luncheon at the Present Day Club, Stockton Street, on Thursday, December 8, at 12 noon.

All members, aides, honorary, supplementary and associate members, as well as former members and aides are asked to attend. Reservations should be made before Friday through Mrs. Jules D. Hebert, 45 Sand Hills Road, Kendall Park, N.J. 08824.

MUSIC In Princeton

CONCERT TUESDAY
At Choir College. A concert of chamber music will be presented at Westminster Choir College Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, 8:45 A.M. WFIL, 8:45 P.M. WTTH.

The second work on the E. Flat Major for clarinet, violin, viola and cello by Brahms. The concert, given by the Westminster faculty this year, will be the first for the Schumann Quartet in E flat Major, Opus 47, for piano, violin, viola and cello, that will conclude the concert.

The concert, third in the 1970-71 Westminster Chamber Series, is open to the public without charge.

James Winn graduated from Princeton University in 1968 and is a native of Louisville, Ky. He has been principal flutist with the Louisville Youth Orchestra and the Princeton University Orchestra and has also played in the Norfolk Symphony, Peninsula Symphony and the Princeton University Orchestra. He is currently working at Princeton University as assistant to the Director of Admissions.

David Shapiro, a junior at Princeton, is majoring in music. He studied with Theodore Cykowski and has played with the Princeton University Orchestra several times. He also did the continuo for the "St. John Passion" with the St. John Church in 1969 and has

Handcrafters' Delights

For the girl who likes Broadway and embroidery (a not so unlikely combination), Mary Martin's "Needlepoint," the book in which she writes about her intriguing projects for her home and friends. Lots of photographs. ($15.95 at Clayton's Yarn Shop, Palmer Square.)

Or an unusual needlecraft project combining crewel work and needlepoint in a 19"x14" wool painting of garden flowers. Yarn included with the kit. (The Knitting Shop, Tulane Street.)

Various widths of embroidered bands for pleasant belts and trim that set off this season's costumes. Buy a buckle, too. (Clayton's main store.)

And sequin trims, poncho fringes in a wide variety of colors at the Fabric Shop.

It's New To Us

There are goodies (bubbles of cooled lava with mineral crystals inside from the American Vesuvius; polished agates and various crystal pieces, including amethyst, $3 to the $39.95).

The Eye for Art has a range of museum cards for Christmas mailing and a few special ones of local interest. Some of Sahra Johnson's prints are there now, and her small woodcuts are due in. These, if the prints are a criteria, should be strong, simple and good.

Bell-ringer Fabrics

Christmas party — season makings at Clayton's on Palmer Square are velvets and velvet-type fabrics for long gowns, rath skirts, pants, shirts, and tunics. Fine, black velvet with a faint glimmer of gold that glows through the pile in a faintly lustrous way — or white velvet touched with silver will start your imagination reeling. There's a big choice of color, all at $6 a yard.

You'll find velveteens in plum, grey, gold, green, and violet for a washable skirt (if you have a drier) that will add tone to a cherished silk or satin blouse. ($5 a yard).

And then there's the once-forgotten panne velvet, which doesn't show crushing or flattening of the pile no matter how long the program may be at the McCarter. Panné is actually a knit and is fun to sew. Fine and light for easy draping and gathering, it comes in various colors — among them light blue, a deeper blue, lavender. ($6 a yd.). Or to solve your problems another way, try the crushed velvets. ($6 a yd.)

On display at Clayton's is a simple, one-pattern piece pants design that you can make up in an evening. Try it in a slightly stretchy cotton velour knit; the display at the store is in wool. Among the striped offerings is a purple orange that should perk up your next party. Solid colors, too. ($5 a yd.).

As tunics with your sleek velvet pants, consider the broadcens in golds, silvers, simple or figured weaves. Richer colors, as well. ($3 to $14 a yd.). Or the traditional evening fabrics such as gros grain or peau de soie. Tunic patterns are simple to follow.

The Fabric Center at 25 Witherspoon has an impressive range of Lyons type velvets, "Velura," fake furs, and even folk-art weaves from Scandinavia. The prices are sensible.

For anyone past the sticky fingers age, the Lyons type velvets make a glamorous Christmas party dress. The colors include greens, reds, gold, black, white and blue. The fabric is spot resistant, non-crease, water repellent and has a fast pile. (41" wide, $1.98 a yd.).

"Velura" is a kind of slightly luxurious velveteen, bought for a child's Christmas dress. It may be gathered or smocked (there's still time), or trimmed with something from the Fabric Center's assortment of appliques — such as butterflies, kittens, or guirlande flowers. The colors are Christmas red or green; or choose from hot pink, plum, brown, black, gold or white. (36" wide, $1.98 a yd.)

The bonded acrylics from Scandinavia are fun, and have an easy-care asset to them. See the patchwork effect in two color schemes: purple yellow, or green brown gold. For a softly pleated fireside skirt, consider the wide, gently striped fabric blending turquoise, orange, brown, yellow and purple. Sounds wild, but it's lovely. In a smaller pattern, there's a lively mélange of gold, blue, navy and clover that would make a pretty, long sleeved, full skirted dress for your teeny 8 or 9-year old. ($1.98 a yd.)

The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street is dead sure you can make a pants suit in time for your Christmas cocktail party. "You use knits or Skinner's 'Lute Song' in pure daron." Mrs. Lucille Carnevale and Mrs. Eleanor Nelson say.

tell you. No lining needed, they say, and the fabric keeps its shape, is washable, packable and not seasonable. How can you miss? (50" wide.)
You'll see some lovely pastels, as well as gold and soft white. Some have a woven raised pattern that is intriguing. The shop has patterns for either wide leg or stove pipe leg pants for formal wear with tunic tops. Use the same pattern for a brocade top and crepe pants.

For long skirts, the Fabric Shop will show you moire and panne velvets in shades of coral, burgundy, red, gray, the various purples, maroon as well as in white and black. You'll need about two and one-half yards, and you should line the skirt.

The velveteens, however, are easier to work with due to the weight and the fact that a lining is not needed. The shop has a good assortment of color.

Robes are a simple challenge, and we suggest you explore the Fabric Shop's collection of cotton quilting, calico, fleeces and piles. Cover the edges with bias tape in a matching or accenting color. The fleeces make a very cuddly type of robe. You'll need about two and a fraction yards for a size 10. ($4, 60" wide.)

At The Festive Board . . .

Candles in any size you could ever possibly want are to be found at the Country Mouse, Nassau Street. They include all shades and hue in the spectrum. The fragrances are enchanting to consider: holly berry, magnolia, apple blossom, lilac, bayberry, pine, sandalwood, even strawberry. What a fragrant house you'll have!

These are also handmade soaps as soft as silk; sachets, and fragrant sprays—all nice little gifts for the shut-in's Christmas stocking.

Princeton Gourmet at Nassau and Harrison carries the very delicious plum puddings ($2.50 to $6.50) and brandied fruit cakes ($2.50 to $9) by the Charlotte Charles people. And a very selective assortment of platters for your serving needs.

And the Gourmet also has some well-elaborated expertise in its paperback library (95 cents each), such as James Beard's "Fish Cookery" which devotes some 400 pages to getting us away from the same old trout, shrimp and salmon recipes. Also the new "Complete Bread Cookery," "The Souffle Cookbook" and "The Chafing Dish Cookbook."

Large, sturdy cookbooks meant for hard use, rather than excerpt and browse, in the paperbacks from Nitty Gritty. The topics are less conventional: Souffle, Charcoal Cooking, Cast Iron Cookery (this has some great tradition

To Enhance a Collection

There's a curio table at Nassau Interiors that's perfect for the display of a small, choice collection.

Designed to serve doubly as an end table, it has a glass top about five inches above the green felt covered well and carries small casters at the end of the slim legs. ($95)

al recipes in the American slow-cook tradition); and even The Wok, filled with Chinese recipes. ($3.95)

You'll find amusing calico pitchers in Staffordshire ironstone at the Gourmet ($3.50-$7.50), and Swiss wine racks that can be reshaped to fit any space, and, perhaps, best of all, an electric coffee grinder for the freshest coffee in the world, ($17.50), plus a wide assortment of coffee beans to choose from.

There's an unusually attractive casserole at The Artisan on Witherspoon Street. The color is celadon green and it is a work of art by Philadelphia's inventive potter, Nonnie Barnes. ($17.) The shop also has her tea set for five. ($30.)

And at Gallery 100, some fine-looking plates in Mexican tin-ware, which has a rather peevish look to it. The plates are about ten inches in diameter and are edged in a brass cable border. Very striking.

Blue Mountain candles in simple, wrought iron bases are another new idea at the Gallery. The ironwork is heavy and well made. ($5 to $7.50)

OFF TO THE POST OFFICE

Princeton Decorating Shop Palmer Square has Southern patchwork, sprouting tassels here and there, made by hand in gay effects. It covers pillows, or serves as crib blanket spreads. ($25-$30) Not too heavy to mail.

And there's a special kind of pillow with a hand loomed front made from an intriguing mixture of yarns and velvet ribbons—a truly luxurious gift for someone who lives in a beautifully decorated small apartment. You may also order the pillow from any material that pleases you. (About $45.)

The shop features decoupage this year in wood boxes of various sizes. ($12.75 up) You'll also see a wood hand bag among them.) There are pretty snack dishes about eight inches in diameter that have the added advantage of being heatproof. The design page is immaculately done, and the boxes, of course have a million uses.

Exclusive at Princeton Decorating are the single chrysanthemum and golden wheat designs of tiny wired heads—some elegant arrangements, each stem about 12" long. And there are various artificial and preserved flowers, some made up into arrangements, others that Miss Sayen will have made up for you.

For the woman who likes the sophisticated confections of dried flowers and mineral pieces such as goodies or cry stallizations, there is a very delightful group to choose from. ($6 to $75.)

Kalen's Fine Arts, at the far end of Palmer Square, has music boxes from far and wide. Many have visible works which fascinate a child's eye. There are jewel box designs, book piles, and baby grand piano designs among them. The choice of tunes is as various as the outside finishes. ($8 up)

Special decorative figures for Christmas include Baroque musical angels—very hard some gold objects about 18" tall, slender standing figures with icon faces, wearing stilted and decorated fabrics. The Holly Family is garbed in velvet and gold cloth. (10" high; $15.)

For men, Kalen has a great selection of desk furnishings—the kind that give daily pleasure. A handsome letter tray in pewter with brass decoration, made in Portugal. ($17.95); a file box in cut glass and a tortoise shell edged black of memo paper. ($12.)

And a very entertaining range of paperweights—some glass, some lucite—in amusing patterns of a wedge of grooved cheese (with coining holes) ($20), or a dame enclosing a real dandelion clock ($30) or a translucent polished resin containing realistic globes, obelisks and so on.

Nature Lovers' Delights

Birdwatchers will be pleased with the redwood feeders at Urken's Supply on Witherspoon Street. Some have a small entry hole that eliminates the large birds and squirrels. Wide-mouthed to protect from snow, they come in various sizes ($4.95 up). Also seed cakes for a balanced diet of millet, wheat, etc.

There are six-sided porcelain flower pots, with matching saucers, for drainage at Nassau Street. Some have a small live inches deep, high enough to hide the ugly clay pot that sits inside. All are white, with attractive designs in green or yellow, or red or blue patterns. ($12.95)

COUNTRYSIDE SHOPPING

The Lennox Shop on Route 202 just above Lambertville, we plunged deep into the early American furniture. A remarkable number of the colonial accessories fit into contemporary schemes, we thought as we gazed around. The pewter for instance, has simple lines that have not been improved upon.

Adding the pewter (lead free) are sets of cardinal glasses, the bowl emerging from a carved pineapple stem. (About 4" high, set of 6; about $24.)

If you are making a gift of cookies or candies, Lennox has candy jars about nine inches high—such as a white pot featuring an Edwardian girl on a garden bench. In red, blue or brown. ($1.95) And good brown crocks made in Taiwan. ($2.50) All have lids.

Christmas decoration ideas at Lennox include plated straw wreaths with hanging hearts and angel—a mobile that will amuse the youngsters on the lid; the Old Williamsburg crystal stemware, and cranberry serving dishes with a copper painting of Sheffield spouts. And for mailing, the "Tea and Toast" packages combining a choice of two teas and four jams. ($2.95)

We liked the casserole in soft yellow with a white duck on the lid; the Old Williamsburg crystal stemware, and cranberry serving dishes with a copper painting of Sheffield spouts. And for mailing, the "Tea and Toast" packages combining a choice of two teas and four jams. ($2.95)

Not too far from Lambertville is John Allen Colonial Furniture at Ringoes, where we were bemused by the possibilities of a ten drawer spice chest for the wall. It cost all so he the depository for the incredible kitchen miscellany that torments us all—chalk, rubber bands, spare batteries, string, scissors, thumb tacks, even fish books. Neat and simple, and very well made. ($10.50)

The reproduction pewter is certainly worth exploring: For children, an alphabet plate about eight inches in diameter; small size plates at $3.50, pudding dishes and even dinner size plates at $8.99. A whole variety of other pieces.

The American primitive paintings reproduce well, and John Allen has some that are very delightful: a boy with a dog, a quill, a pigeon-hole desk and a winter country view through his window. The frame is antiqued a pinky-orange, to tone with his tucker and his braided rug. ($23.)

We may as well add that John Allen has a furniture sale on right now. In the group is a dear little chest about 20" high, with three drawers and a shakedown with a leather inset writing surface. It's called a chairside commode, and it would be a delightful addition to the study or den or bedside table's favorite chair.

The Golden Gallery in Cranbury, behind the inn, has Christmas greeting cards that are very, very, different—they fold and bend in various ways, and are meant to be hung as decorations. "Happy Christmas" printed in red and yellow, folds into a kind of lantern about four inches high. A blue card is cut like a spring and drops down like an apple peel into a cone shape about two inches high.

Others make stand up calendars or snowflakes. All come in stiff mailing envelopes. (Most are 50 cents.)

From the Museum of Modern Art, two new ideas for you: a chic little toy for playful adults is the kaleidoscope in which the prints and pieces are all silhouettes of the human figure. (Sophisticated black and white.) Also a distinguished looking book with the type interlaced with drawings, like Seurat's charcoals. All black and white, and a different sort of gift. The Golden Gallery also has a selection of prints and paintings, as well as witty and castings by Holger Kilander of small animals. It's a pleasant little gallery, and of course, a lovely outing.

HARVEST MOON BALL SET
Scotland Tour to Be Held. A Harvest Moon Ball will be staged during the Thanksgiving weekend by the HoVal Boosters Club. The dances, for all ages, will be held at the Pennington Grammar School this Saturday, from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

The Hopewell Valley Central High School stage band will furnish music for the over-30 crowd and a rock band will be on hand for the teenage and young adult set. Other highlights will be door prizes, a jazz combo and special dance contests for polka, waltz, twist and square dance.

All proceeds from the Harvest Moon Ball will go toward the musical tour of Scotland planned next spring for members of the Central High School band and orchestra.

Members of the high school band and orchestra, the HoVal Boosters Club and other interested Hopewell Valley residents are donating services and supplies for printing, advertising, entertainment, decorations and prizes. Tickets at $1.50 per person can be purchased from Central and orchestra members or at the door.

Contributions to the Scotland trip are being solicited in Hopewell, Titusville and Pennington under direction of Mrs. Dominic Dalesio. Individual or business firms contributing $5 or more will have their names printed on the bass drum the band will take to Scotland. Contributors can call Mrs. Dalesio at 737-2954.

FIVE CLASSES OFFERED
By YWCA. Five daytime mini courses will be offered by the YWCA beginning Monday. Registration can be arranged with the YWCA office prior to the first session of job, slim 'n' swim, ballet, slimina astics, modern dance, or yoga. The mini courses are sponsored by the health, physical education, and recreation department as part of its ongoing fitness program. Mrs. John Cestaro is department director.

Members of the YWCA will be feted at the annual holiday coffee given by the board of directors and the staff at 10 A.M. on Wednesday, December 2, in the YWCA.

RACE ISSUE TOPIC
Of YWCA Series. "Black Nationalism and White Liberalism: A New Perspective" will be discussed by author and political analyst Chuck Stone at the YWCA, 12:30 p.m., Thursday, December 2. The closing session of the Contemporary Issues Series will include luncheon, lecture, and a portion of the discussion within a one-hour period, making it possible for business men and women to attend.

Reservations must be received by the YWCA office by Monday. Nursery care will be available to participants.

Director of Educational Opportunity Projects at Educational Testing Service, Mr. Stone has been a visiting professor at Trinity College (Conn.) and an instructor at Columbia College (Chicago), and editor of Chicago Daily Defender, Washington Afro-American, and New York Age.

Mr. Stone is the author of Tell It Like It Is, Black Political Power in America, and King Strut, and of several articles. He has held Congressional special assistant appointments.

He is a founding member of The Black Academy of Arts and Letters, and a council member of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists. He has received several honors and professional awards.

Mr. Stone received an AB degree in political science and economics from Wesleyan University and an MA in sociology from the University of Chicago.

The Contemporary Issues series is sponsored by the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA. Mrs. William Seiden, chairman.

Housewarming Party

at Princeton Savings' new, convenient office

132 NASSAU STREET, PRINCETON

Saturday, November 28, 9 A.M. to 4 P.M.

or any time during the following 30 days

A new, beautiful, savings center to serve you

We know how important convenience is to you, and that's why we're moving to spacious new quarters in the heart of Princeton's business district. While incorporating all the features of modern day efficiency, our new office was carefully designed to reflect the present architectural spirit of Nassau Street. It will have direct access from the municipal parking lot at the rear of the building. As an added convenience, it will remain open Friday evenings from 5 to 7 P.M. in addition to our regular hours. We hope you and your family will attend our gala housewarming party on Saturday, November 28th. It will be a day of fun, prizes, and excitement for all.

Piggy Bank Penny Party

To start your child on the road to thrift a giant size piggy bank, full of pennies, will be in our office on opening day. Children up to 10 years old, accompanied by a parent, can reach in and keep as many pennies as he or she can scoop up in one hand. And we'll give them a piggy bank, too.

Early Bird Gift

Be among the first 250 adult visitors on Saturday, November 28th, and receive a free set of coasters with our compliments.

Souvenirs For All Visitors

Unusual four foot yardsticks for adults, and ball point pens for children 10 years and older.

Kitchen Calendar Towel
FREE when you join our
1971 CHRISTMAS CLUB

A 1971 Calendar imprinted on a decorator towel. So novel you'll want to hang it on the kitchen wall for everyone to see.

Lucky Number Sweepstakes 1001 PRIZES

You may receive a Lucky Number folder in the mail, if not, come in and pick one up on opening day. If your Lucky Number is listed in our new office, you're a winner.

'Next Year' May Not Be a Rallying Cry for Tiger Football Team

Ordinarily, a team which has suffered through a disappointing season can take solace in the time-hallowed Flin-Hughes refrain, "Wait 'til next year!" But for the fumbling, frustrated Princeton Tigers, who rarely seemed to improve from one Saturday to another, the question of whether they will be any better in 1971 will be the subject of an un- easy, soul-searching winter.

Having lost a shot at a high finish in the Ivy League through successive defeats at the hands of Harvard and Yale, they lost the last vestige of the degree of respectability to which they have been accustomed through the years when they fell out of first division as the result of a 63 defeat by Cornell. If you left Palmer Stadium feeling that it was a long time since you had seen such a dull, low-scoring contest, you were right.

World War II that Princeton had taken part in a game in which neither team managed to cross the goal line. The last time it happened was on a bleak November day in the war-time season of 1943 when a team composed of Navy trainees and temporarily deferred civilians, playing a three-game schedule, lost to Swarthmore, 3 to 0.

You have to go even further back to find the last game played under normal circum- stances in which neither the Tigers or the opposition made a touchdown. On November 2, 1940, Harvard and Princeton played a scoreless tie.

Errors Again Tell the Tale. As has been the case so often this fall, the other team won because it made less mistakes than Princeton. The Tigers threw three interceptions and fumbled the ball away three times — Cornell had one interception and one fumble. The Princeton defense, which yielded more yardage (266) to Ed Marinaro than any Cornell opponent this season, saw 14 hard and Brown lost the game when it allowed quarterback Bud Furbush to run for the first down on a third- and 6th situation toward the end of the fourth quarter. The winning field goal followed. If there was any chance for

ONE FOR THE TIGERS: Princeton had trouble catching its own pass Saturday but defensive back Kevin English completed this one for Cornell, taking it away from the intended receiver, Tom Albright. English also bottled down an end zone pass in the losing contest — first played in Palmer Stadium without a touchdown in 26 years.

The first half was scoreless, a goal that of a rarity in itself. Princeton stayed off to good starts when attempted field goals by John Killian were wide, but after its first drive downfield had ended with an interception of a wholly ill- advised pass, never posed a threat itself.

A fumble by Hank Bjorklund midway through the third quarter gave Killian another shot and this time he converted from 33 yards out. The Tigers then missed their first chance at drawing even, but at 1:37 of the final period, Bill Harries booted a 23-yard or to make it 3 all.

Defense Fails. The decision to go for a field goal then, rather than to try for more yardage on a fourth and two situation from the Cornell 6, would have been a good one had the defense been able to get the ball back. However, Furbush ran for 39 yards through a disorganized Princeton defense and the winning field goal followed shortly. Once again, totally inept through the air, Princeton settled for three punts against a Cornell defense which had allowed the two touchdowns each to Brown and Columbia and four to Pennsylvania. Bjorklund ran impressively for 10 yards but neither the interior nor the downfield blocking was good enough to make him a major threat. It was ironic that the losses' longest run by far came when Rod Plummer gained 36 yards on a break in play.

NEXT YEAR? WHO KNOWS?

Many Problems to Solve. A team which loses only seven starters (five on offense, just two on defense) should be able to count on improvement in the year ahead. For Princeton, however, there is no logical reason to believe that all of the problems which have bedeviled it so thoroughly this fall will necessarily disappear. For example,

The Tigers fumbled 37 times (an average of better than four a game), losing possession 21 times. If virtually the same players carry the ball next year, can the same play- ers learn to carry the ball pro- perly?

execution brought penalties to- talizing more than line times the length of the field. Will the same personnel improve to the extent that it does not again incur a loss of 536 yards in this department?

With 1481 yards in two sea- sons (and the record for one year already to his credit), Hank Bjorklund is sure to break Dick Kazmaier's career mark of 1,556 for yards gained rushing. But if there is no passing game to keep the de- fense honest, the Tigers will stall out time and again inside the 20-yard line, as they did constantly this fall.

Plummer the Quarterback. It is a virtual certainty that Jake McCandless will go with Rod Plummer again as his quarterback, in the belief that 1970, with all its frustrations for both player and coach, will provide the foundation for a successful senior year. Mc- Candless, whose basic philoso- phy leans toward optimism, estimates that "Plummer will be 100% improved next year."

The alternatives are Tim Testerman, a fine halfback but one whose passing arm appears to lack the strength for sharply thrown aeri- als of more than 20 yards, and sophomore Fred Dalzell, the best of the freshmen from a team which defeated Rutgers, Col- umbia and Harvard and lost to Cornell, Penn. and Yale. When Dalzell threw four in- terceptions against the Eli- freemen, one unkind Princetonian remarked, "He's ready for the varsity right now." The comment is, of course, unfair — Dalzell should make his presence felt in welcome fashion by the time he is a junior.

The Pick of the Lixies? If Harvard were not about to re- place John Voyiesin, retiring on his doctor's advice after 14 successful seasons, the Grim- son might well be the logical pick for early line favorite in the next Ivy race. Bud Foster will come of age as a quar- terback, and there is considera- ble holdover strength at Cam- bridge.

Dartmouth loses Jim Chas- sey and John Short from its backfield and part of its de- fensive line, but more import- antly, nine of its regulars on defense, the nation's best in — Continued on Next Page

Six at Home is 1971

For the first time in four years, Princeton will play six football games at home next fall. The same nine opponents who have been on the Tigers' schedule since 1944 will be met, with road trips to Columbia, Cornell and Harvard.

Raiders opens the season in Palmer Stadium on September 25. Successive games will then be played away against Columbia in New York and Cornell at Ithaca.

The Tigers will then have five of their remaining six games at home, meeting Colgate, Penn and Brown here, journeying to Cambridge to face Harvard on November 6 and finishing in the Stadium against Yale and Dartmouth.

points allowed, after shutting out six of nine opponents. There is some bench strength but not much of a freshman crop at Hanover and even as good a coach as Bob Blackman may take a year to rebuild.

Yale will be strong again, although Chuck Sizemore must prove himself as Joe Massey's replacement at quarterback. Cornell will stay in the running during Marinaro's senior year, and these four teams — as of now — appear to have the ability to retain their first division berths.

The renaissance at Columbia soured during the latter part of the season, and neither Penn nor Brown is likely to find the personnel good enough to finish among the top four. As for Princeton, the need for improvement is so great in so many places that the jury will be out until the first three games of the 1971 season have been played.

WINTER CLASSES SET

By Junior Tennis Committee. With the help of Princeton University and the financial backing of the Youth Tennis Foundation, the Princeton Community Tennis Program has planned a wide variety of indoor tennis classes for the 1970-71 season.

The University is again opening up the 10 courts at Jadwin Gym to any teenager, who plays tennis, in a program under the direction of the Recreation Board. This will run from 8 to 9:30 Saturday mornings, beginning December 5. Joseph Diefenbach will supervise.

The YTF has scholarship funds available to underwrite the high cost of indoor classes. In keeping with the philosophy of the Community Tennis Program, this insures that any one who qualifies for a specific winter class will be able to participate regardless of ability to pay.

With this kind of support, the program now has four intensive indoor classes underway at the Princeton Racquet Club on Raymond Road, two on Saturday afternoon and two on Sunday. These will run for a 20 week season. Participating are advanced high school students who received a ranking this year or who were recommended by their respective tennis teachers. They also had to be members of Mr. Conroy's or Mr. Cullen's Tournament Groups last spring or summer.

A third indoor program will begin in January, conducted in one and one half hour periods every Saturday for 8 weeks. This will be held at Stuart Country Day School Gym and will be open to anyone who was a member of the Program's Silver or Gold Cup Squads last season.

Class size will be strictly limited. Deadline for registration is December 15. Anyone who wishes to participate should contact Mr. K. Kraft directly or give their names to Mr. Diefenbach at the Middle School or William Humes at the High School.

PHS Eleven Loses Final Game, 6 to 0, Ending Season at 5-2-2

The Princeton High School football team, which never failed to score less than two touchdowns in eight previous games and which had run up 83 points in its last two, failed to cross the goal line once in its final Saturday, losing 6-0. Coach Dick Wood's Little Tigers ended with a 5-2-2 record, more than reversing last year's 3-5 mark.

"We gained more ground and had more first downs than they did but we made more mistakes — and our mistakes came at the wrong time," said Wood. The contest again st newcomer Cherry Hill East was played at Cherry Hill.

The game's only score came with seconds remaining in the third period when Cherry Hill quarterback Bob Gartner nudged over from the one. The TD was set up when the home team recovered a PHS fumble on the six-yard line.

PHS almost scored twice. With 12 seconds to go in the half, sophomore Ned Fry tried a field goal from the 22-yard line but his kick was short. Then in the final period, Lou John Rossi was in the process of engineering a possible game-winning drive when Cherry Hill intercepted one of his passes, to kill Princeton's hopes.

The interception was the result of his receivers being unable to run their patterns on the slippery turf, Wood said. The field was covered with mud and water and made the going tough for both teams.

Playing particularly well, as they have all season for PHS, were Rossi and fullback Larry Parker. Rossi was outstanding, said Wood. He mentioned that was one of the things the Cherry Hill coach told him after the game. "He was the six foot, 180 lb. fullback played both offensively and defensively."

"Parker had a good ball game. He ran just as well as he did last week." Wood commented.

Rossi, who ran for six touchdowns, and passed for eight more, has come under the scrutiny of several scouts. Wood reported that the University of Pennsylvania coach had talked to him last week and over the weekend he ate with the Cornell team. "He's going to make somebody a good football player," Wood said.

Parker (eight touchdowns) has been sought not only for football but for track, where he is an outstanding javelin thrower and four dash man.

He was contacted by a school in the state of Washington last week for track, Wood reported. The two with tackle Dave O'Brien served as captains on the team.

21 Players Depart. Wood will be hard hit by graduation next year as 21 on the squad are seniors. In addition to Rossi, Parker and O'Brien, he loses center John Schumacker, tackles John Drummond and

Larry Parker

center Kaufman, guards Larry Muehly, Isaac Menasche, Scott Bernardo, John Hult, ends Daryl Boone, Chris Leham, Pat Connelly, Gih Weiss, and backs John Hodge, Richard Jackson, Mark

Cuomo, Kevin Smith, Alvin McGowan, Dan DeWeist and Phil White.

That's quite a chunk but Wood was quick to add that "there are some good kids coming along. No one like Lou John but I think Joe McGuinn will be a pretty good ball player. He'll do the passing for us in the T formation." As a junior, McGuinn was 5-10, 160 pounds.

Other backs returning are Steve Sanford, Wes Hines, Don Owens, Joe Gallo, Hyell Brewe, and Dan Crosby. Line men include John Seeley, Ray Richards, Bart Harris, Scott VanArsdale, Tony Frederick, Scott Ostroff, Doug Haring, Mark Buoff, Archie Hines, Chris Garza and Ron Rhodes.

Looking back over 1970, Wood observed, "I think it was a good season. It would have been real good if we had won this last one."

Assisting Wood in coaching the varsity were Jim Bearelli and Bill Ciriale, both of whom played under Wood in the mid 1960s.

Tiger Quintet Looks to the Future: Four Sophomores Will Start

By all logical standards, Princeton's basketball team is a year away from another Ivy League title and a spot among the first 20 colleges in the national rankings. The Tigers will in all probability field a starting quintet of four sophomores and Captain Bill Sickler, forecasting a building year as the newcomers gain experience against opponents better staffed with veterans.

They are, however, a somewhat unusual group of sophomores, because they have yet — while wearing Princeton colors — to taste defeat. A Last Year, Coach Art Hyland directed them to 17 victories in 17 starts, and along the way, they topped some extremely capable opponents, a number of them on their own courts.

If the combination on which Pete Carril is planning lacks experience, it is by no means short of potential. Sickler, a 6-3 hustler who is a standout on defense, will start at forward, pairing with 6-7 Bill Daake. Up front with them will be the tallest member of the squad, 6-9 Bill Kapler.

Rounding out the starting team will be a back court pair who have the ability to become the finest guard tandem in Princeton basketball history. Brian Taylor, a high school All-American from Perth Amboy, averaged 26.8 points last year and combines that sort of scoring ability with unusually fine defensive skills.

He will be paired with Ted Manakas, who was credited with a 17.1 average. Both can hit from the outside, both drive with agility and un-

Freshmen in Play Varsity

For the first time in Princeton basketball history, a formal game has been scheduled between the varsity and freshman quintets. It may be seen (free of charge) Saturday afternoon at 4:30 in Jadwin Gymnasium.

Coach Pete Carril is expected to start Captain Bill Sickler and four sophomores: Bill Daake, Bill Kapler, Brian Taylor and Ted Manakas.

Freshman Coach Art Hyland has enough material to give the varsity an interesting time of it. What's more, he has a height advantage — he will start Forwards John Berger and John Sidiocsa, both about 6-5, are others who should do well for the Class of '74.

der the basket accuracy.

Veterans on the Bench. Best indication of the potential that Carril feels his top four sophomores have is that a number of juniors and seniors with considerable game experience figure to see only reserve duty. There may be a fair amount of it for some but for the present they have been nudged out in the battle for starting positions by Daake, Kapler, Taylor and Manakas.

Holdovers from last year include seniors Ed Stanczak and Scott Early and juniors Reg Bird, Al Duffy, Tim Wright and Gerry Couzens. Jim Sullivan is the pick of the sophomore crop hoping to see reserve action. Bob Rytoons of the all-star Penn-Jersey team, voted by the league's coaches. Whitehead at 6-3, 245 and Cortina, 6-2, 250, made Hun's ground game go on offense and led a stingy defense that gave up only five touchdowns all year. Jack Petrone, the Red and Black's premier running back, was named to the der, a frequent starter last winter with Bird, has not reported for the sport this year because, according to a story in the New York Times, he disapproves of the pressure put on players here to win.

Missing: 42-Points a Game Biggest problem for Carril will be replacement of 6-8 John Hummer and 6-3 Jeff Petrie, who have made it in the NBA with Buffalo and Portland. Petrie provided an average of 24 points a game last season. Hummer was good for 18 and the latter had tonight defensive skills.

The Tigers ranked sixth nationally last winter in points allowed, an achievement unlikely to be matched this season. Sickler and Taylor are extremely adept in this vital department, but the other three sophomores figure to have their problems for a while.

As might be expected of the trend since Bill Bradley made Princeton and the Ivy League so basketball conscious, the season opens with the pot already at full boil. The Tigers play two of the toughest games imaginable away: Duke at Greensboro, N. C., on Tuesday, December 1, and Villanova at the Palestra the following Saturday, December 5.

They won't be home in regular-season competition until a week later, when Navy comes to Jadwin on the 12th. NYU on Monday the 14th rounds out the pre-holiday action. (See pages 24 and 25 for complete schedule.)

uary 4 against defending champion Pennsylvania, the Tigers will be trying to catch a veteran Quaker quintet that is a solid favorite to repeat. About the only thing working against the highly-regarded Quakers is the fact that the league will be tougher all around this year.

Especially fine sophomore players are on varsity squads at Harvard and Dartmouth, while Yale generally gives every opponent a tough fight. Columbia, minus Jim McWilliam and Hayward Dotson, may drop out of contention but the race figures to last right down to the final weekend in early March.

GRAPHICS FOR SALE
To Benefit Atelier. Repeating last year's successful project, the Graphics Atelier of the Princeton Art Association will hold its second annual Graphics Sale starting next Monday and continuing through Friday, December 4. The sale will be held at Gallery 100.

The public is invited to attend an opening reception Monday at the Gallery from 5-7 p.m.

More than a dozen graphic artists from the Princeton area have contributed to the sale. Artists are donating one framed work and will offer a variety of additional prints, both framed and unframed.

Most prints are priced under $50. Proceeds will go toward purchase of a larger press for the use of atelier printmakers.

Last year, the atelier brought its first press with proceeds from the sale, and was then able to offer a place where practicing artists and beginners could

NEW SHOPPING "COURT"

At 360 Nassau. The complex of one-story buildings around the 360 Nassau address will become a court of specialty shops under the aegis of the Abbott and Cook real-estate firm.

The bulk of the space — the actual 360 address — has been used off and on for some years by Nassau Interiors and was most recently Republican headquarters. The area also includes the store formerly occupied by Bond Cleaners, a single-family house now used as office space and a vacant lot behind Princeton Gourmet, facing Harrison Street.

According to Ridgely Cook of Abbott and Cook, a "Unisex" clothing boutique will move into the front part of the former Bond establishment, fronting on Nassau.

Behind, where Bond had its customer area, will be The Cartridge Barn, a hi-fi set-up.

The rear of the court, in the arm of the 360 Nassau building facing Nassau, will be the new home of Princeton Hairstyling for Men. Its neighbor will be a shop whose owners are still negotiating.

The long arm of 360, used by the Republicans, will be leased to an existing Princeton store whose identity Mr. Cook declined to disclose.

Cook said he didn't want to reveal until arrangements have been completed.

Present owner of the entire area is John Barden who originally planned an office shop complex. The seven-story, 300 building has been purchased by new owners who plan a remodeling job costing around $100,000. Mr. Cook stated. He prefers to wait until negotiations are complete before announcing who the new owners are, he said.

The lot facing Harrison and the single family size house have been purchased by two other buyers. The Bond Clearing building will be sold also. Mr. Cook said.

A major subdivision is necessary before all this can be completed. Mr. Cook said he hopes to appear before the Regional Planning Board no later than January.

GRAND OPENING SET

For New Princeton Savings Office, Princeton Savings and Loan Association will have the grand opening of its new office at 132 Nassau Street Saturday with a housewarming party, featuring special gifts to early visitors and a lucky number sweepstakes.

The Association vacated its former facilities at 19 Chamber Street, which it had occupied since 1929, last weekend and has been doing business at its new quarters since Monday.

The 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. party will feature a pageant, party for children, early bird gifts to the first 250 visitors, souvenirs for all, and 1,000 prizes in a sweepstakes with a color television set as a grand prize.

The new building with its distinctive live oak arcade has a rear entrance with direct access from the municipal parking lot at the rear of the building. The office will be open Friday evenings from 5 to 7, in addition to regular 9 to 4 hours.

STATEMENT ISSUED

By Lee Bellows, Star-News columnist, the article's appearance and facade to a MEET ME UNDER THE BELLGLOWS VERANDA may become a Princeton catch phrase if Lee Bellows, owner of Bellows, 210 Nassau Street, has his way. Mr. Bellows would like to attach an overhang to the front of his store but has been blocked by the Borough Zoning Board. His statement on the "veranda concept" appears on this page.

was subconsciously formed by my initial impression of the shopping area. Its background, and our serious attitude of responsibility as a member of the shopping community.

"The atmosphere evident in this community appears to be one of quiet, gracious elegance, uniquely devoid of the usual commercialism and frantic showmanship — almost as though history had been turned back to a pre-war, TV news era when shopping was a luxurious art practiced in an environment of leisure and hospitality. Why can't this art be reacquainted today? Too much pressure and expediency is our excuse, but some attempt must be made and both our store and site position demand this.

Some of us were privileged to experience the friendly comfort of shopping under an old fashioned veranda or porch, and the open area within property lines offers a perfect opportunity to enjoy this hospitality on Nassau Street.

"Philosophizing a bit, there should never be a 'store front' — rather, a complete store."

In retrospect, this concept personality from front to back or better, "back to street." Historically, the most inviting shopping units were open bays and the "veranda idea" approaches this within the practical restrictions of climate and control.

"In summary, this idea is not architectural in concept, but a natural environmental part of the store and its community."

HOPEWELL HOUSE SOLD TO PARTNERSHIP. Historic Hopewell House on West Broad Street in Hopewell has been sold to the Espenhorst Brothers to a newly-formed partnership.

Wayne Lowe, the new president, will be no stranger to Hopewell residents. Born and raised here, he and two brothers ran Lowe Bros. Service Station for many years on East Broad Street.

In addition to a wide selection of wine and liquor stocks, Mr. Lowe will carry complete stocks of liquors, beers, soft drinks, mixers, snacks and other party needs with delivery to the entire Hopewell-Princeton-Dennington area.

Hopewell House has figured prominently over the years in the history of the town as a former hotel and restaurant right next to the old Baptist Church and the burial place of John Hart, signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Mr. Lowe and his partners, Lee Weston and Peggy Henderson, are planning to restore Hopewell House and its outbuildings to its original shape maintaining the old-time character and "mystique."

DESIGNER APPOINTED By University Press, Princeton University Press has appointed a new designer, James C. Wageman. In his new position, Mr. Wageman will be responsible for designing some of the Princeton and Bollingen books, and journals published by the Press.

Before joining Princeton, Mr. Wageman was Chief Designer for The Johns Hopkins Press, and before that, Assistant Director and Designer for Press. Most recently he engaged in free lance designing.

Mr. Wageman received a B.A. degree from Park College and an M.A. degree in English from the University of Hawaii. A member of A.L.G.A.; books of his design have been exhibited in A.A.U.P. book shows, the Chicago Book Clinic Exhibition, and the Western Publishers' Book Show.

New residents to Princeton, Mr. and Mrs. Wageman, and their daughter, Melissa, live at 13 Vandewater Avenue. Mrs. Wageman, the former Virginia Farley, is the daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Farley of Princeton.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED By Princeton Bank. Three personnel promotions have been announced by the Board of Directors of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company.

Francis J. Boyle, Manager of the Lawrence Office of the bank has been named assistant vice-president. Peter Blaicher has been named assistant treasurer and is currently attached to the 16 Nassau Street office.

Carroll M. Salls has been named an assistant treasurer and is attached to the main office, 842 State Road.

CONTRACT SIGNED

For Human Relations Program. Princeton University Press has signed a $16,000 contract to conduct a human relations program for the Atlantic City School System. PAHR, whose offices are at 341 Nassau Street, also will soon be conducting a similar program for the Camden School System.

As is typical in many urban areas throughout the country, Atlantic City is faced with racial problems within the school system's faculty, student body and community. PAHR has conducted a number of similar programs in communities throughout the state.

COMMUNITY SERVICE
On Thanksgiving Day, "An Act of Thanksgiving," is the theme of the traditional community service at 11 a.m. this Thursday in Princeton University Chapel. The offering will be given to support the chaplaincy at Princeton Hospital.

The service is co-sponsored by the Princeton Pastors' Association and the Princeton Inter-faith Council. Leaders will be Rabbi Hershel Matt of the Jewish Center, the Rev. Robert L. Cope of the Unitarian Pastors' Association, the Rev. Robert Martin of the Inter-faith Council and Dean Ernest Gordon of University Chapel.

Norman Ruben of the Jewish Center and 12-year-old Dennis Alexander of First Baptist Church will be soloists. Two members of the Princeton Ballet Society, Tita Rosenthal and Daniel Forthman will perform a dance, and there will be music by a brass ensemble from the Princeton University Chapel, composed of Marc Zell, Scott Cunningham and Carlos King.

At the conclusion of the 35 minute service, worshippers will place their offerings for the chaplaincy in the chapel basket as an act of thanksgiving.

TWO EVENTS SET
At Trinity, Rocky Hill, Trinity Episcopal Church, Rocky Hill, will have a corporate communion for men and boys at 9 a.m. this Sunday. Breakfast in the parish hall follows.

The Women's Auxiliary will meet at 8 p.m. on Monday in the parish hall. Both events are open to the public.

BULLETIN NOTES
Clark Olcese, of the Unitarian Ministers Fellowship, will speak at the 9 and 11 a.m. services on Sunday in Princeton Unitarian Church. His sermon title is "If God is Dead, What Shall We Tell the Children?"

The Rev. William Kight, minister to youth for the Princeton Presbyterian Commission, will preach at the 11 a.m. service this Sunday in Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

Sunday services at 9:30 and 11 in Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church. This week will be led by James Conn, student minister. His sermon topic is "A's Heed, Isn't It?"

An Advent Service will be held in Trinity Episcopal Church this Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

A special service on Thanksgiving Day will be held at 11 in First Church of Christ, 10 Bayard Lane. Traditional music for the occasion will be sung. The soloist James W. Clump will be accompanied by Steven Waters, organist. Time will be provided for a period of prayer and for the traditional expression of gratitude by members of the congregation.

To West Windsor, there will be a community Thanksgiving Day service at 16 in the Princeton Presbyterian Church, Dutch Neck. The Rev. James Weaver will preach.

Pakistan Needs Your Help.
To the Editor of The Town Topics:
Your readership is undoubtedly aware of the havoc wreaked by the recent cyclone in East Pakistan. Whole villages have been wiped out and the death toll is estimated to be in the millions.

The India Association of Princeton, together with Princeton's Asian students (Princeton University Chapel) Deacons, urge all to contribute to the relief of the victims of the unprecedented calamity. Checks should be made payable to the "United Nations Pakistan Relief Fund" and sent to F. M. Farooqi, Minister and Head of Embassy, Embassy of Pakistan, 2315 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20008.

Staying with a decision made at the end of last winter, long withdrawal from the league in a place in football this fall. Princeton Day School will withdraw from the Penn-Jersey League at the end of the current school year.

The plan to resume its independent status, after just two years of league competition, was based, at the time, on the Panthers' poor records in football and basketball last year, resulting from unequal competition. Although the

MAILBOX

A Happy Story.
To the Editor of The Town Topics:
Every week, TOWN TOPICS reports one or more things I want to record as happy story.

Saturday morning among a large crowd of people, both windows of the post-office on Palmer Square. I dropped a letter of mine in the day, I found a letter in my mailbox telling me that the wallet had been found and could be claimed. It was handed back to me with all contents intact.

RAVI SEETHI

India Association of Princeton
baseball team made a strong showing last spring and is expected to be a contender for the football squad but every conference team but Hun, PDS will stick by its decision, he said. Experts expect problems in the future.

The limited enrollment of boys in the upper grades, compared with other Penn Jersey schools, has hurt PDS in its city competition, especially football, where coach Dan Barren rarely had more than 21 or 22 players to work with and usually no more than 15 he could put in a game.

With several students choosing to compete in intramurals, rather than put in the time required for varsity sports, and seniors allowed to take one semester off from athletics, the number of those interested in going out for teams is further reduced.

Next fall the Blue and White will return to playing an independent schedule including such teams as Montclair, MacArthur, Military Academy, Kings School, Wardlaw, Mitchell Prep, and Academy of New Church. Seven games, one less than this year, have been scheduled.

Not among the teams PDS will play in the future is the cross-town rival Hun School. It was apparent to everyone two weeks ago that PDS did not really belong on the field as Hun. The variance in the two schools' athletic policies and their mutual dislike has made equal competition between them in football virtually impossible for the foreseeable future.

There are reports that other Penn Jersey schools are unhappy with the yearly beatings Hun has been giving them and that pressure is being put upon it to withdraw from the league in football and play larger schools.

Hun's coach Dave Leele commented "We may drop out to make the league more rounded, but it's not official. We are not being forced out." Leele said there would be an other meeting of league officials on December 2.

PDS has again elected trustees, Guy D. Peller, P. E. McCandless, and Irmuen Kirk Moore and John Kalpin will lead the 1971 Panther team.

MALE'S VS. EWING
For First Place: Both winners over the top teams in the other division to finish the regular season in a tie, Mall Tavern and Ewing Giants will meet in a playoff game at 11 a.m. Thanksgiving Day at the Buttonwood Drive field. This will decide first place. The two teams, plus Monarchs and Dolers, will meet in post-season playoffs on dates not yet specified for the championship of Mercer County flag football league. This past Sunday Mall's nipped Monarchs, 13-0, and Ewing Giants blanked Dolers, 14-0.

A date is still to be selected for the Ivy Inn Harrison Athletic Club contest.

NASSAU-CONVER WINS
Midwest Football Championship. A 6-0 win over Rug and Furniture Mart last week at the high school field clinched the championship of the senior division of the Princeton Mid-west Football League for Nassau Conover Motors.

In a second game, University Store blanked Princeton Fuel Oil, 12-0. Final standings are Nassau Conover 411, University Store 42, Rug Mart 231, and Fuel Oil, 15.

Ken Bullneck scored the touch-down that gave Nassau Conover its crown, outracing three defenders on a four yard slant in the third period. A Rug Mart drive near the goal in the fourth period was broken up by a pass interception by Dan Choblosky.

Tony Ferrara completed two passes of 12 and 13 yards to Steve Hayden to help the Nassau attack. Strong on defense for the victors were Roland Alexander, Steve Tomlinson, Tom Moore and Chris Negus. A 32 yard interception by a kick by Robert Wood and the passing of Dave Baumer and Bill Crane highlighted the spurring Rug Mart offense. Defensive standouts were Nate Harris, Warren Davis, Wood and Baumer.

Good Kneekley's passing (7 for 17) and Bob McHugh's running (60 yards in six carries) were paramount in the U-Store's victory. In all, the victors rushed 100 yards, while Jack Stewart, Bob Plumb and the Ewing Hatcher combined defensively to keep the losers bottled up.

Fuel Oil was held to 27 yards rushing, 21 of these coming on eighth carries by Peter Barnett. Its defense depended primarily on Ed Erick, Eric Zolkowsky and Barnett.

HAMILTON LEAD LEADER
In Women's Bowling League: The Princeton Women's Bowling League which rolls at the Hightstown Lanes has Hamilton Supply Co. as its new runner.

Hamilton, led by Mary Hurlbert's 191, now has a two point lead over former leader Swift's Colonial Diner No. 2 and Cranbury Bank. The latter chain has 54 points. Used Car Mart is third with 45.

The high single game was fashioned by Carol Osborn of Swift's Diner No. 1. She rolled 202, 75 pins over her average. Teammate Carol Rainey had a 182, others: Marilyn Smith, 174; and Mary Ann 200-172, and Pat Brown of Swift's No. 2, 174.

Hamilton rolled the high team series of 1331; Swift's No. 1 fashioned the high team game of 671.

OUR MOST VALUABLE REAL ESTATE IS OUR EARTH

"We travel together, passengers on a little spaceship, dependent on its vulnerable resources of air and soil; all committed for our safety to its security and peace; preserved from annihilation only by the care, the work, and, I will say, the love we give our fragile craft."

— Aldai Stevenson

1930's Quality of Construction

1970's Conveniences

Centrally air-conditioned first floor, modern, light and sunny kitchen, fire and burglar alarm systems, electric garage door opener —

And a four bedroom, three and a half bath house built to last the way they used to build, with the kind of landscaping that takes years to mature! Large dining room, pleasant study, walk up attic with storage as well as living space.

Beautifully cared for, of course — and so nice to come home to. Asking $45,000 and enter into an era of gracious living when you buy this charming country estate. Partly pre-Revolutionary, partly Victorian in age, the house has been modernized in all the essentials, while still retaining the charm and feeling of a bygone time. Many fireplaces, wide mellow floor boards, beamed ceilings, a gracious front staircase — and a large and lovely home of five bedrooms and four and a half baths. Set on almost thirteen prime acres adjoining the exclusive Bedens Brook Club — with a branch of the brook running through the property. A plus is the three bedrooms, two bath apartment over the separate three car garage — great for guests and in-laws, servants, or as now, for ample rental income.

TURN YOUR BACK ON TIME

This is a show place, a property to love and cherish for the rest of your life.

WHERE . . .

WHERE ELSE . . .

But at Country Antiques you can find . . .

Cardic molds and push-up sole candlesticks.
Again we warn about reproductions flooding the antiques market. (A pair of very beautiful penicillin mugs, English, about 1800) well marked authentic and classic in simplicity of design.

A very old toy, farm-cult, truly a collectors piece we filled with small peppers of varied shades and they would be beautiful as the focal point of a Thanksgiving table or buffet.

A small cherry candle stand, quite lovely and most difficult to find, at any rate, we find.

A Windsor high chair - In beautiful condition ready to use for the young and visiting grandchild.

A rush light - we almost couldn't believe our good fortune when we found it.

A miniature, or child's, Windsor side chair with beautiful splay and bamboo turnings.

A collection of golf hours, 8 or a 9 in press time - ranging from a single one-room (18) up to a wood to our newest acquisition, a 3 story double Schenault.

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.
 There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land... and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?

HOLIDAY'S HOUSE

A delight all the year, but a particular joy, we can promise, at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Imagine the warmth and charm of a winter's evening in the huge family-kitchen with its paneling of hand-rubbed pine, rough-hewn ceiling beams and glowing hearth, while snow fills up the woods beyond the french doors. For formal entertaining, there are a lovely living room with fireplace and elegant dining room with pair of handsome corner cupboards and dentil moldings. Or just for two, a cozy, book-lined study, which, with its adjacent full bath, can double as a guest room. Upstairs are 4 good bedrooms and 2 tiled baths. Tremendous amount of storage space in dry basement and attic. Two car garage. If the ambience of Colonial Williamsburg is appealing, then don't miss this newly available home in Princeton's Riverside. Offered for the first time, in the $90,000 range.

WORTH CONSIDERING

Priced under $40,000, taxes less than $1,000 and only $250 to heat. If a convenient Princeton Township location is a must, then see this 3 bedroom ranch with paneled family room, 2 full baths, good oversized kitchen. Laundry room. Living room with divided dining area. The glassed-in sun room faces south to a wonderful back garden. Bound to sell at $39,750
